Virginia Farmers Meet

More than five hundred farmers attended the Virginia State Farmers' Institute in Roanoke on the 12, 13 and 14 of July. The first two days of the institute were indeed gloomy, but the bad weather did not detract from the enthusiasm of those present, and the closest attention was given to the excellent addresses provided.

Mr. T. B. Terry's discussion of the improvement of the soil was unusually instructive, as that is one of the great questions in which our farmers are particularly interested.

The question of immigration and industrial development was handled by Mr. F. H. La Baume of the Norfolk & Western R. R., and it was suggested that the next Legislature be memorialized to provide a fund for the purpose of establishing immigration agencies in Northern Europe.

Mr. Alva Agee, of Wooster, O., discussed Irish potato growing. He emphasized the necessity of enriching the soil for potatoes through the use of green manures and deep and thorough culture. He called attention to the fact that the climate of the western part of the State owing to the high elevation, was well suited to the production of late crop Irish potatoes. He was followed by an able and witty address on the same subject by Judge Geo E. Cassell, of East Ford.

Mr. Agee also spoke on the Great-est Need of Agriculture, and pointed out the fact that if farmers did not insist on suitable appropriations being made to the College of Agriculture and Experiment Station, little progress could be made.

The dairy interests of the State were ably presented by Mr. T. O. Sandy of Burkeville. He showed how he had taken a worn-out Virginia farm and built it up by means of the dairy business until it became a profitable investment. He was followed by Hon. Jos. Wilmer, of Rapidan, and Maj. A. R. Venable, Jr., of Farmville.

The trucking interests of the State were presented by Mr. A. Jeffers of Norfolk. He said that the State's interest in truck crops amounted to some $12,000,000.00 a year, and that in many instances, Virginia enjoyed an immense advantage over Florida and other Southern states.

At the night session the work of the College of Agriculture and Experiment Station, was presented by the writer, and the need of appropriations pointed out with the result that a resolution was unanimously passed asking that an appropriation of $100,000.00 be made by the next Legislature for the development of the State College of Agriculture and Experiment Station.

Prof. John R. Fain explained the feeding trials with beef cattle at the Station, and showed that cattle can be fed with success in Virginia. He was followed by Mr. S. S. Cassell of Rural Retreat, who discussed the handling of calves in an instructive manner.

The subject of alfalfa growing was discussed by Mr. Willis Wing, of Mechanicsburg, O., who took the place of his brother, Mr. Jos. E. Wing, who was unable to be present. He convinced many Virginia farmers that alfalfa is quite essential for them to grow this crop which seems destined to assume an important place in the agricultural economy of the State.

Hon. J. F. Jackson, of Richmond, discussed the subject of sheep husbandry and pointed out that there was room for great development along this line in Virginia. He was followed by Mr. J. R. K. Bell, of Dublin, who discussed the handling of lambs in a creditable manner.

Commercial Apple Growing in Virginia was discussed by Prof. H. Price of Blacksburg. Small Cane in Virginia by Prof. R. H. Jones of Long's Shop; and our In-terests by Prof. J. L. Phillips, of Blacksburg. Great interest was evidenced by all the farmers in all the subjects.

The evening Prof. John Ham-ilton, of Washington D. C., took entire time for the discussion of the subject of farmers' organiza-tions. He pointed out the great need of agricultural education, and showed how effectively the work of Colleges and Stations and Farmers' Institutes had developed agriculture of various states.

At 8 o'clock on the morning of 14th, a party of more than 100 farmers boarded a special train for Blacksburg, on a tour of in-formation of the College of Agricul-ture and Experiment Station. The tour was ideal and every one was pleased with what they saw. The train was served at 12 o'clock and met with the hearty approval of the farmers. The special train conveyed the farmers back to the station at five o'clock. Thus the second annual meeting of the Virginia State Farmers' In-stitute was successful beyond all hopes of its originator, ANDREW M. SOULE, Sec.

From Williamsville

Wheat here has been very much injured by rains. Threshing is finished in this vicinity, yield not good and inclined to be chaffy in some cases.

Miss Allie Campbell, of Burke-town, Rockingham county and Mr. T. Crawford, of Baltimore, who were guests of the Misses Wallace the past week have returned to their respective homes.

Mrs. James Bradshaw, of Mc-Dowell and her guest, Miss Tanne-hill, of Staunton were driving in our community Thursday after-noon.

Jonas Tucker, of Black Ankle District, Buncombe, N. C. gave one of his inimitable impersona-tions of the southern negro here Thursday night. It not being generally known, only a small audience greeted him, but these were highly entertained that, should he again favor us, a large audience would be sure to greet him. As a negro impersonator he is the peer of Polk Miller.

Miss Gertrude Hull who has been in Grafton, W. Va. the past year, is expected here in a few days to visit her aunt, Miss Sarah Hull and Mrs. C. R. Wallace.

Bent Her Double.

"I knew no one, for four weeks, when I was sick with typhoid and kidney," writes Mrs. Annie Hunter, of Pittsburg Pa., and when I got better, although I had one of the best doctors I could get. I was bent double and had to rest my hands on my knees when I walked. From this terrible affliction I was rescued by Electric nitters, which restored my health and strength, and now I can walk as straight as ever. They are simply wonderful." Guaranteed to cure stomach, liver and kidney disorders. Dr. K. H. Trimble's drug store; price 50c.

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the news-papers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medi-cal triumph of the nine-teenth century; dis-covered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and blad-der specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recom-mended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble.

When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Sing-hamton, N. Y., and a regular fifty cent bottle of Swamp-Root will be sent you free of charge.

Don't make any mistake, but remem-ber the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Bingham-ton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Home of Swamp-Root.

The Outdoor Belt

For the outdoor girl this summer kid belts are sold with collars to match. They are made of the softest and most pliable kid. And let me tell you how the clever girl gives them an air of individuality and distinction. Upon the left corner of her collar, which is a broad turnover in shape, she em-broiders either her monogram or one single, rather large scroll let-ter—the letter which begins her last name. The embroidery is done in shaded silks, and you need only to try it to be convinced of its effec-tiveness. Not caring to scatter the wearing-apparel with mono-grams, and yet anxious to make her belt a bit out of the common, she adds two little pockets to it—one on either side of the deep buckle. One pocket is just large enough to hold any loose change she may have, and the other is for the safe-keeping of her watch. The pockets are of kid, matching of course, the belt. These collar-and-belt sets are the most fashionable in white, though they are often dyed, and are then used to intro-duce the wearer's favorite color into her costume.—Grace Margaret Gould in Woman's Home Companion for August.

On Tuesday the Security met to consult a proposition from Mr. Davis which was accepted and he was released.—South Branch Re-view.

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR stops the cough and heals lungs

Attention Please

To my Friends and the Public Generally: Let me repeat what I said sometime ago that I intend to make shoes the leading line in my business, and those of you who have looked over our stock must be convinced that we do really mean what we say and in putting in a full line of shoes—we mean a line from which we can furnish every customer. We find it takes lots more shoes and lots more money and room than we at first supposed, hence I am going to close out some line of goods, and to do this I am going to make some prices that will induce you to, at least, stop and look at them. Among the goods I will offer at a reduced price, are the following:

10 Rolls of matting at from 12 to 30 cents.
12 dozen men's and boys' hats at 33½ per cent off.
2 Solid Oak Bed Room Suits.
8 Bolts of white curtain goods, from 13½ to 18c.
25 pieces Summer Dress Goods at 25 per cent off.

One lot of ladies' wrappers at similar rates, and a great many other things that I am simply going to sell.

We very cordially invite you to come and see us and we will esteem it a particular favor if you will allow us to show you our line of shoes and if you will do this we will venture to say that if you do not buy your shoes from us—you either don't need shoes or are very hard to please.

All kinds of Country Produce taken at the highest marked price. We want butter, eggs, chickens, huckleberries, cucumbers, tomatoes, onions, new potatoes, honey, and most everything you ever heard of being sold at a store in this town.

It will cost you very little to come down and see us. We are at the lower end of town, it is true, but there are no toll gates between here and the upper end of town.

From yours very truly,
C W TRIMBLE,
